

Sins of Long Ago (Nocturne Book 2)

A curse haunts her, a predator is stalking him and his pack. Vincent doesn't need a woman in his life, and Genevieve is doomed to go insane if she falls in love. When danger brings them together, they find that desire demands satisfaction. But first they have to find a way to break the curse and catch a killer! Filled with passion, action, and suspense, Sins of Long Ago by Naomi Bellina is a welcome addition to her paranormal romance series, Nocturne. Leading his pack of werewolves keeps Vincent plenty busy, and now with a predator out to harm them, life is more perilous than ever. The last thing he needs is a woman to complicate matters, especially one who sets his body and soul on fire. She's a human and a witch—totally the wrong woman for him. Even if he could take a mate for his own, he refuses to put her in the danger his life has become. No way can they ever be together. Werewolf-style love is fine anyway. No permanent partner, no bullshit, no heartache. Genevieve has never known true love. Cursed by an enraged woman long ago, females in her family are doomed to go insane if they fall in love. Life has been fine without a man around until a hot werewolf drops in and captures her heart. Though they have plenty of obstacles to overcome, Gen knows they can work past them. Tell that to Vincent, as he struggles with old pack rules about love, sex, and consorting with humans. As Vincent searches for a killer, deals with death among his own, and tries to keep his hands off Gen, she attempts to end her family curse. Together, they must find a way to break free from the sins of long ago.
