

How To Live On Twenty-Four Hours A Day

You have to live on this twenty-four hours of daily time. Out of it you have to spin health, pleasure, money, content, respect, and the evolution of your immortal soul. Its right use, its most effective use, is a matter of the highest urgency and of the most thrilling actuality. All depends on that. Your happiness-the elusive prize that you are all clutching for, my friends!-depends on that. Strange that the newspapers, so enterprising and up-to-date as they are, are not full of How to live on a given income of time, instead of How to live on a given income of money! Money is far commoner than time. When one reflects, one perceives that money is just about the commonest thing there is. It encumbers the earth in gross heaps. If one cant contrive to live on a certain income of money, one earns a little more-or steals it, or advertises for it. One doesnt necessarily muddle ones life because one cant quite manage on a thousand pounds a year; one braces the muscles and makes it guineas, and balances the budget. But if one cannot arrange that an income of twenty-four hours a day shall exactly cover all proper items of expenditure, one does muddle ones life definitely. The supply of time, though gloriously regular, is cruelly restricted.
