Inevitable When the love of Jacks life decided that she had to taste life outside of the country, he let her go. Six years later, he is seriously regretting that choice. Sky Denholm is slipping through his fingers, and he has no idea how to bring her back home. Running Home Tom Cane, ex-military man and reclusive farmer, wants nothing more from life but the chance to wallow in his own pity, the shrapnel lodged permanently in his leg a daily reminder of his failings during his last tour of duty. But fate has other ideas. Joanne Sloane, the daughter of a socialite and abused wife of an up and coming businessman, stumbles onto Toms land. Together their passions ignite and the need to rescue one another entangles them in a bitter fight for their lives. The One That Got Away When William Adams was driven from his childhood home by his drunk father at eighteen, he begged his girlfriend Cammy to go with him. With only a bag of clothes and a twenty pound note, he had nothing to offer her except his love and devotion. When she refused to flee with him, Will was crushed. He left his town and his first love and vowed never to return. Ten years later, regret and unfinished business force him to rescind his vow, bringing Will face to face with the woman he could not forget.
